PHILOSOPHY TODAY

Volume XXIV

1980

INDEX

VOL. 24 - INDEX - 1980

AESTHETICS
Hermeneutics, play, deconstruction. J. S. Hans. 299-317.
Mikel Dufrenne and the world of the aesthetic object. R. M. Feezell. 20-32.
Painting and the re-orientation of philosophical thought in Merleau-Ponty. V. M. Foti. 114-120.
AMBIVALENCE
On the meaning of ambivalence. J. Stambaugh. 161-170.
ANALYTIC philosophy
A Jungian analysis of current tensions among philosophers. E. H. Cadwallader. 349-359.
ARISTOTLE
Politically man dwells on this earth. C. Pax. 338-348.
ART, Philosophy
Mikel Dufrenne and the world of the aesthetic object. R. M. Feezell. 20-32.

B

BAD faith
Sartre's phenomenological description of bad faith: intentionality as ontological ground of experience. P. Whitney. 238-248.
BEING
The being of the material and the immaterial in Heidegger's thought. E. B. Koenker. 54-61.
Techne and technology: Heidegger's perspective on what is happening today. W. Lovitt. 62-72.
BERTRAM, Maryanne
The different paradigms of Merleau-Ponty and Whitehead. 121-132.
BIEN, Joseph
Dewey and Marx: two notions of community. 318-324.
BROCKELMAN, Paul T.
Myths and stories: the depth dimension of our lives. 73-88.
BUSCH, Thomas W.
Coming to terms with Jean-Paul Sartre: a critical review of recent books about Sartre. 187-237.

C

CADWALLADER, Eva H.
A Jungian analysis of current tensions among philosophers. 349-359.
CAPITALISM
Phenomenology as ideology critique. J. L. Marsh. 272-284.
CLASSIFICATION, Logical
On names. J. P. Leyvraz. 33-43.
COLLECTIVES (Ensembles)
An English version of Sartre's main philosophical work: Critique of Dialectical Reason. W. Desan. 262 271.
COMMUNITY
Dewey and Marx: two notions of community. J. Bien. 318-324.
CONSCIOUSNESS
Sartre's phenomenological description of bad faith: intentionality as ontological ground of experience. P. Whitney. 238-248.
CONSTRUCTIVISM
Beyond realism and idealism. G. W. Erickson. 12-19.
COSMOLOGY
The new cosmology and the overcoming of metaphysics. C. Raschke. 375-387.
Star Wars, the future and Christian eschatology. D. W. Ingersoll, Jr., J. M. Nickell and C. D. Lewis. 360-374.
CULTURE
Merleau-Ponty as sociologist. J. W. Murphy. 104-113.

D

DASEIN
The being of the material and the immaterial in Heidegger's thought. E. B. Koenker. 54-61.
DERRIDA, JACQUES
Hermeneutics, play, deconstruction. J. S. Hans. 299-317.
DESAN, Wilfrid
An English version of Sartre's main philosophical work: Critique of Dialectical Reason. 262-271.
DESCRIPTION
On names. J. P. Leyvraz. 33-43.
DEWEY, John
Dewey and Marx: two notions of community. J. Bien. 318-324.
DIALECTICAL reason
An English version of Sartre's main philosophical work: Critique of Dialectical Reason. W. Desan. 262-271.

• INDEX • • • • •

DOUD, Robert A.
Wholeness as phenomenon in Teilhard de Chardin and Merleau-Ponty. 90-103.
DUFRENNE, Mikel
Mikel Dufrenne and the world of the aesthetic object. R. M. Feezell. 20-32.

E

ELEMENTALISM
Beyond realism and idealism. G. W. Erickson, 12-19.
ELLIS, Ralph D.
Phenomenology and the empiricist criteria for meaning. 146-152.
EMPIRICISM
A Jungian analysis of current tensions among philosophers. E. H. Caldwallader. 349-359.
Phenomenology and the empiricist criteria for meaning. R. D. Ellis. 146-152.
ENLIGHTENMENT
Star Wars, the future and Christian eschatology. D. W. Ingersoll, Jr., J. M. Nickell and C. D. Lewis. 360-374.
EPISTEMOLOGY
Creative imagination as a basis for relating the sciences and the humanities: the epistemological perspective of Michael Polanyi. B. V. Manno. 171-184.
ERICKSON, Glenn W.
Beyond realism and idealism. 12-19.
ESCHATOLOGY
Star Wars, the future and Christian eschatology. D. W. Ingersoll, Jr., J. M. Nickell and C. D. Lewis. 360-374.
EXISTENTIALISM
An English version of Sartre's main philosophical work: Critique of Dialectical Reason. W. Desan. 262-271.
The future of existentialism. W. Smoot. 3-11.
EXPERIENCE
Sartre's phenomenological description of bad faith: intentionality as ontological ground of experience. P. Whitney. 238-248.

F

FARBER, Marvin
What is social reality? D. J. Levy. 325-337.
FEEZELL, Randolph M.
Mikel Dufrenne and the world of the aesthetic object. 20-32.
FOTI, Veronique M.
Painting and the re-orientation of philosophical thought in Merleau-Ponty. 114-120.
FOWKES, William
The concept of the self in Husserl and beyond: the transcendental ego reconsidered. 44-53.
FREEDOM
An English version of Sartre's main philosophical work: Critique of Dialectical Reason. W. Desan. 262-271.
FUTURE
Star Wars, the future and Christian eschatology. D. W. Ingersoll, Jr., J. M. Nickell and C. D. Lewis. 360-374.
Wholeness as phenomenon in Teilhard de Chardin and Merleau-Ponty. R. A. Doud. 90-103.

G

GADAMER, Hans Georg
Hermeneutics, play, deconstruction. J. S. Hans. 299-317.
GNOSTICISM
Star Wars, the future and Christian eschatology. D. W. Ingersoll, Jr., J. M. Nickell and C. D. Lewis. 360-374.
GOD
The different paradigms of Merleau-Ponty and Whitehead. M. Bertram. 121-132.

H

HANS, James S.
Hermeneutics, play, deconstruction. 299-317.
HEIDEGGER, Martin
The being of material and the immaterial in Heidegger's thought. E. B. Koenker. 54-61.
The future of existentialism. W. Smoot. 3-11.
Heidegger and the philosophy of mind. P. J. McCormick. 153-160.
New cosmology and the overcoming of metaphysics. C. Raschke. 375-387.
On the meaning of ambivalence. J. Stambaugh. 161-170.
Politically man dwells on this earth. C. Pax. 338-348.
Techne and technology: Heidegger's perspective on what is happening today. W. Lovitt. 62-72.
HERMENEUTICS
Hermeneutics, play, deconstruction. J. S. Hans. 299-317.
HUMANITIES
Creative imagination as a basis for relating the sciences and the humanities: the epistemological perspective of Michael Polanyi. B. V. Manno. 171-184.

INDEX

HUSSERL, Edmund
The concept of self in Husserl and beyond: the transcendental ego reconsidered. W. Fowkes. 44-53.
Phenomenology and the paradox of truth. F. B. McCluskey. 133-145.

I

IDEALISM
Beyond realism and idealism. G. W. Erickson. 12-19.
IDEOLOGY
Phenomenology as ideology critique. J. L. Marsh. 272-284.
IMAGINATION
Creative imagination as a basis for relating the sciences and the humanities: the epistemological perspective of Michael Polanyi. B. V. Manno. 171-184.
IMMATERIAL
The being of the material and the immaterial in Heidegger's thought. E. B. Koenker. 54-61.
INDIVIDUALISM
Merleau-Ponty as sociologist. J. W. Murphy. 104-113.
Phenomenology as ideology critique. J. L. Marsh. 272-284.
INGERSOLL, D. W., JR.
Star Wars, the future and Christian eschatology. D. W. Ingersoll, Jr., J. M. Nickell and C. D. Lewis. 360-374.
INTENTIONALITY
Sartre's phenomenological description of bad faith: intentionality as ontological ground of experience. P. Whitney. 238-248.
Wholeness as phenomenon in Teilhard de Chardin and Merleau-Ponty. R. A. Doud. 90-103.

J

JUDGMENT
Phenomenology and the paradox of truth. F. B. McCluskey. 133-145.
JUNG, Carl Gustav
A Jungian analysis of current tensions among philosophers. E. H. Cadwallader. 349-359.

K

KIERKEGAARD, S.
On the meaning of ambivalence. J. Stambaugh. 161-170.
KOENKER, Ernest B.
The being of the material and the immaterial in Heidegger's thought. 54-61.
KNOWLEDGE, Theory of
Creative imagination as the basis for relating the sciences and the humanities: the epistemological perspective of Michael Polanyi. B. V. Manno. 171-184.
Heidegger and the philosophy of mind. P. J. McCormick. 153-160.

L

LAPOINTE, François L.
A selective bibliography with notations on Sartre's Nausea (1938-1980): a supplement. 285-296.
LECHNER, Robert Firman
Jean-Paul Sartre (1905-1980). 186+
LEWIS, C. D.
Star Wars, the future and Christian eschatology. D. W. Ingersoll, Jr., J. M. Nickell and C. D. Lewis. 360-374.
LEVY, David J.
What is social reality? 325-337.
LEYVARZ, Jean-Pierre
On names. 33-43.
LIVED body
The different paradigms of Merleau-Ponty and Whitehead. M. Bertram. 121-132.
LOGICAL positivism
A Jungian analysis of current tensions among philosophers. E. H. Cadwallader. 349-359.
LOVITT, William
Techne and technology: Heidegger's perspective on what is happening today. 62-72.

M

McCLUSKEY, F. B.
Phenomenology and the paradox of truth. 133-145.
McCORMICK, Peter J.
Heidegger and the philosophy of mind. 153-160.
MANNO, Bruno V.
Creative imagination as a basis for relating the sciences and the humanities: the epistemological perspective of Michael Polanyi. 171-184.
MARSH, James L.
Phenomenology as ideology critique. 272-284.
MARX, Karl
Dewey and Marx: two notions of community. J. Bien. 318-324.
MARXISM
An English version of Sartre's main philosophical work: Critique of Dialectical Reason. W. Desan. 262-271.

• INDEX • • • • • •

Phenomenology as ideology critique. J. L. Marsh. 272-284.

MATERIAL
The being of the material and immaterial in Heidegger's thought. E. B. Koenker. 54-61.

MAZIS, Glen A.
The third: development in Sartre's characterization of the self's relation to others. 249-261.

MEANING
Phenomenology and the empiricist criteria for meaning. R. D. Ellis. 146-152.

MERLEAU-PONTY, Maurice
The different paradigms of Merleau-Ponty and Whitehead. M. Bertram. 121-132.
Merleau-Ponty as sociologist. J. W. Murphy. 104-113.
Painting and the re-orientation of philosophical thought in Merleau-Ponty. V. M. Foti. 114-120.
Wholeness as phenomenon in Teilhard de Chardin and Merleau-Ponty. R. A. Doud. 90-103.

METAPHYSICS
The being of the material and the immaterial in Heidegger's thought. E. B. Koenker. 54-61.
The new cosmology and the overcoming of metaphysics. C. Raschke. 375-387.

METHODOLOGY
Merleau-Ponty as sociologist. J. W. Murphy. 104-113.

MIND - Philosophy
Heidegger and the philosophy of mind. P. J. McCormick. 153-160.

MURPHY, John W.
Merleau-Ponty as sociologist. 104-113.

MYTHOLOGY
Myths and stories: the depth dimension of our lives. P. T. Brockelman. 73-88.

N

NAMES
On names. J. P. Leyvarz. 33-43.

NICKELL, J. M.
Star Wars, the future and Christian eschatology. D. W. Ingersoll, Jr., J. M. Nickell and C. D. Lewis. 360-374.

O

ONTOLOGY
Sartre's phenomenological description of bad faith: intentionality as ontological ground of experience. P. Whitney. 238-248.

ORGANICITY
Wholeness as phenomenon in Teilhard de Chardin and Merleau-Ponty. R. A. Doud. 90-103.

OTHER
The third: development of Sartre's characterization of the self's relation to others. G. A. Mazis. 249-261.

P

PAINTING
Painting and the re-orientation of philosophical thought in Merleau-Ponty. V. M. Foti. 114-120.

PARADIGMS
The different paradigms of Merleau-Ponty and Whitehead. M. Bertram. 121-132.

PAX, Clyde
Politically man dwells on this earth. 338-348.

PERCEPTION
Mikel Dufrenne and the world of the aesthetic object. R. M. Feezell. 20-32.
Wholeness as phenomenon in Teilhard de Chardin and Merleau-Ponty. R. A. Doud. 90-103.

PHENOMENOLOGISTS
The third: development of Sartre's characterization of the self's relation to others. G. A. Mazis. 249-261.

PHENOMENOLOGY
The concept of the self in Husserl and beyond: the transcendental ego reconsidered. W. Fowkes. 44-53.
The different paradigms of Merleau-Ponty and Whitehead. M. Bertram. 121-132.
Merleau-Ponty as sociologist. J. W. Murphy. 104-113.
Phenomenology and the empiricist criteria for meaning. R. D. Ellis. 146-152.
Phenomenology and the paradox of truth. F. B. McCluskey. 133-145.
Phenomenology as ideology critique. J. L. Marsh. 272-284.
Sartre's phenomenological description of bad faith: intentionality as ontological ground of experience. P. Whitney. 238-248.

PHILOSOPHERS
The third: development in Sartre's characterization of the self's relation to others. G. A. Mazis. 249-261.

PHILOSOPHY, American
Dewey and Marx: two notions of community. J. Bien. 318-324.
A Jungian analysis of current tensions among philosphers. E. H. Cadwallader. 349-359.

INDEX

PHILOSOPHY, Greek
Techne and technology: Heidegger's perspective on what's happening today. W. Lovitt. 62-72.
PHILOSOPHY, Modern
A Jungian analysis of current tensions among philosophers. E. H. Cadwallader. 349-359.
PLAY
Hermeneutics, play, deconstruction. J. S. Hans. 299-317.
POLANYI, Michael
Creative imagination as a basis for relating the sciences and the humanities: the epistemological perspective of Michael Polanyi. B. V. Manno. 171-184.
POLITICS — Philosophy
Politically man dwells on this earth. C. Pax. 338-348.
PROCESS philosophy
The different paradigms of Merleau-Ponty and Whitehead. M. Bertram. 121-132.

R

RASCHKE, Carl
The new cosmology and the overcoming of metaphysics. 375-387.
REALISM
Beyond realism and idealism. G. W. Erickson. 12-19.
REIFICATION
Phenomenology as ideology critique. J. L. Marsh. 272-284.
RUSSELL, Bertrand
On names. J. P. Leyvarz. 33-43.

S

SARTRE, Jean-Paul, 1905-1980.
An English version of Sartre's main philosophical work: Critique of Dialectical Reason. W. Desan. 262-271.
The future of existentialism. W. Smoot. 3-11.
Jean-Paul Sartre (1905-1980). R. Lechner. 186+
On the meaning of ambivalence. J. Stambaugh. 161-170.
SARTRE, Jean-Paul — Bibliography
Coming to terms with Jean-Paul Sartre: a critical review of recent books about Sartre. T. W. Busch. 187-237.
A selective bibliography with notations on Sartre's Nausea (1938-1980): a supplement. F. L. Lapointe. 285-296.
SCHULTZ, Alfred
What is social reality? D. J. Levy. 325-337.
SCIENCE — Philosophy
Creative imagination as a basis for relating the sciences and the humanities: the epistemological perspective of Michael Polanyi. B. V. Manno. 171-184.
The new cosmology and the overcoming of metaphysics. C. Raschke. 375-387.
Phenomenology as ideology critique. J. L. Marsh. 272-284.
SELF
The concept of self in Husserl and beyond: the transcendental ego reconsidered. W. Fowkes. 44-53.
The third: development in Sartre's characterization of the self's relation to others. G. A. Mazis. 249-261.
SELF-EVIDENCE
Phenomenology and the paradox of truth. F. B. McCluskey. 133-145.
SMOOT, William
The future of existentialism. 3-11.
SOCIAL institutions
Merleau-Ponty as sociologist. J. W. Murphy. 104-113.
SOCIAL philosophy
Dewey and Marx: two notions of community. J. Bien. 318-324.
Merleau-Ponty as sociologist. J. W. Murphy. 104-113.
What is social reality? D. J. Levy. 325-337.
STAMBAUGH, Joan
On the meaning of ambivalence. 161-170.
STAR WARS
Star Wars, the future and Christian eschatology. D. W. Ingersoll, Jr., J. M. Nickell and C. D. Lewis. 360-374.
STORIES
Myths and stories: the depth dimension of our lives. P. T. Brockelman. 73-88.
STRUCTURALISM
The concept of self in Husserl and beyond: the transcendental ego reconsidered. W. Fowkes. 44-53.

T

TECHNOLOGY
The new cosmology and the overcoming of metaphysics. C. Raschke. 375-387.
Techne and technology: Heidegger's perspective on what is happening today. W. Lovitt. 62-72.
TEILHARD de CHARDIN, Pierre
Wholeness as phenomenon in Teilhard de Chardin and Merleau-Ponty. R. A. Doud. 90-103.

THIRD, The (Le Tiers)
The third: development in Sartre's characterization of the self's relation to others. G. A. Mazis. 249-261.
THOUGHT and thinking
Heidegger and the philosophy of mind. P. J. McCormick. 153-160.
Painting and the re-orientation of philosophical thought in Merleau-Ponty. V. M. Foti. 114-120.
TRANSCENDENTAL ego
The concept of self in Husserl and beyond: the transcendental ego reconsidered. W. Fowkes. 44-53.
TRUTH
Phenomenology and the paradox of truth. F. B. McCluskey. 133-145.

W

WHITEHEAD, Alfred North
The different paradigms of Merleau-Ponty and Whitehead. M. Bertram. 121-132.
WHITNEY, Peter
Sartre's phenomenological description of bad faith: intentionality as ontological ground of experience. 238-248.
WHOLENESS
Wholeness as phenomenon in Teilhard de Chardin and Merleau-Ponty. R. A. Doud. 90-103.
WORLD
Mikel Dufrenne and the world of the aesthetic object. R. M. Feezell. 20-32.